HOW TO USE NATIONAL JOURNAL INDEXES

Material in National Journal is indexed seven ways:

National Journal Reports Checklist 3

This checklist is designed to provide quick access to major reports which have appeared in National Journal in January-June 1971.

personal names 5

including congressional committees (section one), federal departments and independent agencies and international organizations (section two). Government organizations are filed under their substantive names; for example, private organizations 37

including associations, law firms, lobby groups, trade organizations, corporations and universities whose activities are covered by National Journal. Divisions of private organizations are listed under the organization. Independent subsidiaries are listed independently. All organizations are listed under their complete, official names. If the official name begins with initials or a first name rather than the surname, the organization is filed alphabetically under the initial or first name as follows:

E. C. Knight Co. files with the E's
Arthur D. Little Co. files with the A's government organizations 51

including congressional committees (section one), federal departments and independent agencies and international organizations (section two). Government organizations are filed under their substantive names; for example,

Office of Education is filed as Education Office
Bureau of Labor Statistics is filed as Labor Statistics Bureau
Commission on Campus Unrest is filed as Campus Unrest Commission
Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations is filed as Intergovernmental Relations Advisory Commission
House Committee on Public Works is filed as Public Works Committee, House

Roll-Call Votes Index 103

This index lists Senate and House of Representatives roll-call votes for the first session of the 92nd Congress by subjects.

If material cannot be located through use of these indexes, subscribers may call National Journal's Information Systems Division for assistance, 202-833-8000, Ext. 383.

This index supersedes the January-March 1971 National Journal cumulative index.
This cumulation should be retained for permanent reference.

Subdivisions of government units are listed under the main entry. Proposed government units are in italic type.

geographic areas 77

including states, cities, congressional districts, foreign countries and other geographic place names. Sections of the Geographic Index are United States, U.S. Trusts and Territories and Foreign Countries.

subjects 91

This structured index is arranged in broad subject categories which appear in bold face type. Each main category has subordinate categories; for example, under communications are subordinate categories magazines, newspapers, telephone; under transportation are aviation, highways, railroads. Many cross references are included in the subject index to refer the user to the appropriate main category. Example: aviation see transportation; television see communications.

When persons, places or organizations are mentioned in the National Journal several times, subject headings are used under the name.

Major studies or analyses are indicated in bold face type.

Entries are alphabetized letter by letter. Example:

American Road Builders
Americans for Democratic Action
American Society of Newspaper Editors

Aetna Life and Casualty Co.
AFL-CIO
Air Transport Assn.

The Washington intelligence agency that works for you.

There are lots of intelligence organizations in Washington.

Only one of them publishes a weekly report on the power struggle that shapes decisions. Analyzes every factor in the struggle, from the White House to the least-known pressure group. Equips you to understand what's happening now, what will happen next, what it will mean to your interests.

The report is called National Journal. It's 64 pages a week, packed with in-depth analyses of current issues, a Weekly Briefing that fills you in on every government department, and a detailed index.

National Journal is not for casual readers. It's for people with a serious interest in what the government is doing. Scholars, lawyers, editors. Businessmen who know it can be fatal to make an important decision without factoring the government into it.

National Journal is for people who realize that the information they get from newsletters is too limited, from newspapers too little, from magazines too late.

It's for people who know there is a lot more going on in Washington than gets into print. And that what's left out is often much more important than what's left in.

National Journal may be for you. If...

You're tired of unpleasant surprises from Washington, of newflashes that tell you what happened but don't tell you why. We tell you why. We have 50 experienced editors, researchers and reporters who can spend as much as two months on a story to give you the background you need.

You want to stay one jump ahead of the government. So we provide you with an early-warning system. We analyze the Washington decision-making process while it's happening.

We tell you how policy starts. Who's behind it. Who's against it. What are its chances.

We tell you this before official statements are made, before rulings are issued, before legislation is even introduced. There's no magic to it—just a different focus. While your newspaper is chasing today's news, we're chasing tomorrow's.

You don't want to get hit from your blind side. Yet some obscure government bureau may right now be working on a program that will seriously affect you. You may never hear about it until too late—unless you read National Journal. We keep you up to date on government actions outside your special field.

You want to know what's happening behind the scenes. You know that the Senator's assistant can be as important as the Senator. So we tell you what the assistant is thinking and how much he matters—plus all the other assistants, staff members and deputies.

You want to know what hidden pressures are at work. So we report to you on the personnel, activities and effectiveness of lobbies, interest groups, civic organizations. You've never heard of many of them. But they influence decisions.

You want information when you want it. So we give you an instant information retrieval system. Everything in National Journal is cumulatively indexed—people, places, subjects and organizations. You get free, attractive binders that conveniently hold your National Journals. So, at any time, you can find the information you need in seconds.

Maybe it's time you tried National Journal. You can subscribe right now on a trial basis at a special price. For information, write Carl P. Bloom, National Journal, 1730 M St. N.W., Wash., D.C.
